

Lynne Crystal

Lynne Crystal has saved countless careers. She is grateful for having the privilege to train, coach, and develop thousands of Corporate Executives as well as design, conduct and train trainers for an unlimited number of Management Development programs.

Her career started with her Advanced Executive Presentation practice. Clients spanned a wide range of industries with Senior Management, Lawyers, Educators, Sales Teams, and Entertainers. Later, in the JC Penney Company New York headquarters, she was Director of JC Penney National Training Network to develop and implement programs worldwide.

Lynne created ‘Lynne Crystal Company, LLC – Management Development Consultants’ in 1988. Today’s clients span the Executive Suites of Fortune 500 companies in the U.S., Puerto Rico, Canada, South America, Europe and Asia. Lynne is a certified IMAGO Relationship Educator as well as a Professional Speaker. She has been affiliated with the National Speakers Association, the Board Member Institute of New Jersey, the American Society for Training & Development and was an adjunct professor at the New School Graduate School of Management. She is a member of New Jersey’s largest business intensive chamber~Gateway Regional Chamber of Commerce and is Chair of its Workforce-Education Committee.

Lynne received her Bachelor of Science degree in Speech Pathology & Audiology from SUNY at Fredonia and did select graduate study at Columbia University. She was graduated with honors from New York’s “High School of Performing Arts.” (‘Fame!’) Her own development includes: writing, yoga, the “peaceful” martial art of Aikido (2nd degree Black Belt) and theater. She lives with her husband Ted in Central New Jersey.

Contact Lynne for customized Private Executive Sessions and/or Group Workshops that focus on the Advanced Skills of: Presentation, Meeting Leadership, Management, Interpersonal, Accent/Language Perfection, Consulting and Business Writing. All workshops and sessions are conducted in-person and/or through various media with unlimited free phone/electronic follow up practice. English is the global business language. Lynne’s CD “Lynne Crystal Conducts....The Phonetics Sessions: Professional Voice, Diction & Corporate Language” for American and International clients is available through her company. She plans to author a book (or two) based on her many years of fascinating career experiences with her magnificent clients from all over the world. With her very active schedule we expect these books to be published.....Someday.
