So, Tell Me About Yourself!

(How to Find and Interview for Positions before they are published)

My clients and friends recommended that I promote my course, "So, Tell Me About Yourself!" Whether for yourself or those you see benefitting by it (colleagues, friends, family, etc). Please pass the word and contact me! Thanks! Lynne Crystal

My wish for all of my clients and friends is to professionally succeed. It's you or someone you know who is highly competent and: Unemployed, graduating from school, experiencing career transition, strategically seeking promotion, employed with a wish to be prepared in case of reorganization. Everyone needs every advantage in this career market ~ as well as a career bargain.

This course is the Career Advantage and the Bargain: It is: • Short (4 hours) • Very Practical • Technique intensive & fun (yes, fun) • Extremely affordable (a fraction of usual fees) • Complimentary to what you learn from experience and other courses • Continuous...Upon completion you are invited to contact me for free unlimited phone/electronic coaching. Again...Career Advantage/Career Bargain.

Objectives: Upon completion participants are able to practice this logical, user-friendly system to:
• Clarify specific goals with questions only the individual can answer. • Follow the 7- step-by-step process: from determining desired contacts to following up with thank you letters. • Write appropriate résumés and letters throughout the process. • Determine/ project your unique image...verbally and non-verbally. • Effectively speak and write with corporate logic and communication. • Get dressed • Handle all types of interview questions, through various mediums, with any size interviewing group • Remember the top 10 universal tips and conclusions vital to help your success.

Location: My office. Please see all of my contact information below. Light refreshments provided. If you are far away we can meet through Skype or a similar medium.

When: Decide whether you wish to take the course privately or with a group of your friends and colleagues. Then contact me (include names, phone numbers and email addresses). Together we pick your date. Arrive 30 minutes early on your date to complete payment and registration.

Cost Options: (Check/cash/ money order). • Groups: $100 per participant. • Semi-private (2 participants): $150 per participant. • Private: $300. If there is financial hardship we find a solution.

As the saying goes, "It is better to have it without needing it ~ then to need it without having it." Feel free to call or write me with your questions and ideas. I am a phone call/email away.

My Best to You, Lynne
