

Please join the Upstate New York LRIG for its Albany Area Laboratory Automation Review and Social

Meet, greet and mingle with lab managers, research scientists, automation providers and technologists in the Capital District

Hear from leading corporate and educational labs, and find out where they are and where they want to be with laboratory automation

Celebrate the beginning of summer with your colleagues and free refreshments!

June 25, 2007 at the Desmond Hotel and Conference Center, Albany NY

4:00 Social Hour

5:00 Automation Review: (15 minutes each)

- Taconic Labs; Hudson, NY
- Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; Troy NY
- Albany Molecular Research, Inc.; Albany NY
- The University of Albany Center for Functional Genomics; Rensselaer, NY
- Applied Robotics, Inc.; Glenville, NY
- GE Global Research.; Niskayuna, NY
- Wadsworth Center, NYS Department of Health; Albany, NY

6:30 Say hello to summer with an ice cream treat!

What is an Automation Review?

- Tell us a little about your company-- What do you do and who are your customers?
- How is automation playing a role in your mission?
- How will automation have to change to meet future needs?

There is no cost to attend, but we please ask that you register online at www.lab-robotics.org/upstate Click on "Register for Automation Review and Social"

The Laboratory Robotics Interest Group (LRIG) (www.lab-robotics.org) is an international, non-profit, volunteer organization of professionals from the private, government and academic sectors working in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, chemical, genomic, and other areas. The LRIG was established to provide a platform for open discussion of new technologies beneficial to the laboratory automation community.